FEMININE HYGIENE

Made Easy

They contain Parahydrecin!

The antiseptic used in Norforms is anhydrous para-hydroxy mercuri meta-cresol—called "parahydrecin"—for short. Millions know how soothing it is to delicate tissues; and how dependably antiseptic under the conditions of use. Norforms have no tell-tale medicated odor—are deodorizing in effect.

NORFORMS have revolutionized feminine hygiene—made it simple, convenient, easy! These antiseptic suppositories are completely ready for use. There's nothing to mix or to measure. You don't have to worry about an "overdose" or "burn." No apparatus is needed to apply Norforms. They are the dainty, modern way to inner cleanliness.

Norforms melt at internal body temperature, releasing a concentrated yet non-irritating antiseptic film that remains in prolonged and effective contact. This antiseptic—Parahydrecin—is found in no other product for feminine hygiene. Norforms are positively antiseptic and non-irritating.

MILLIONS USED EVERY YEAR

Noelle de Mosa, principal danseuse of the Jooss Ballet, which comes here for a single performance next Friday afternoon, February 25, at the National Theater.

Grace Moore, mixing concert, screen and opera in her crowded career, comes here for a recital next Sunday afternoon, February 27, at Constitution Hall. She is shown getting a side-walk ovation after her recent return to the Metropolitan as Mimi.

Lupe forsakes screen. Arriving in New York for a role in the play "You Never Know," the temperamentally-torrid Lupe Velez and her Chihuahua terrier, Sophie Tucker, find the big city a bit chilly.
